

Nitrile, Viton

RESPIRATORY PROTECTION

Selection of specific respiratory protection for use with this material was based on published literature or information from the maker of the respiratory protection. Use conditions greatly affect integrity of respiratory protective equipment; replace worn or damaged respiratory immediately.

Respiratory protection to be considered for use with this material include:

No special requirements under ordinary conditions of use and with adequate ventilation. Particulate.